Good morning everyone,

I hope you are all well - at least the sun is shining today!

Some of you may already know this: on Tuesday afternoon a delivery lorry came down Ragdale Road and bumped into a BT telegraph pole outside the car park gate, damaging it quite badly. Immediately the phone lines and the internet went off in school. The telegraph pole has been removed and we are waiting for a new one to be installed.

We have diverted the phones to a mobile phone, which is better than no phone at all, but the internet is still down. So please bear with us if you are trying to get in touch! Class dojo won't work without the internet, so if you are messaging your child's teacher and wondering why they haven't replied, they are probably in school and cannot see class dojo.

Most staff are on a rota so some will be working from home and some will be in school each day.

Fingers crossed the situation is sorted very soon.

It definitely makes you realise how much we all rely on the internet when we don't have it!

Have a lovely day everyone.

Best wishes,

Miss Godfrey
